

Hakan Bilhan D.D.S., Ph.D.

Dr. Bilhan, had received his DDS (DMD) degree in 1993 from the Hacettepe University (Ankara, Turkey), followed by a post-graduate certificate study in Oral Surgery and Implantology at the Karl-Franzens University of Graz, Austria. He earned his 'Dr.med.dent. in 1996 after a stay at the Department of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery of Zurich University in Switzerland, his PhD degree in Prosthodontics in 2004 at the Istanbul University. Dr. Bilhan, who is an Associate Professor since 2012, published several book chapters and numerous scientific papers in peer-reviewed international journals, is member of the Academy of Prosthodontics and Gnathology Society and Fellow and Speaker of the ITI (International Team for Implantology). He gave myriad presentations at national or international conferences, and his fields of interest are mainly removable implant prosthodontics, edentulism and implantology, gerodontology. Presently he is working in a private clinic in Germany and is lecturer in Witten/Herdecke University.