

Prof. Dr. Liu Feng

Dr. Feng Liu is a Clinical Professor, Deputy director of the Stomatology Clinical Division, Director of Clinical Division Esthetic Dentistry Training Center and Director of Department of General Dentistry of Peking University Hospital. Moreover, he is member of the Education Quality Management Committee and the Continuing Education Management Committee of the Peking University Hospital of Stomatology. Dr Feng is former Chairman and Honorary President of the Chinese Society of Digitized Dental Industry and standing committee member of the Chinese Society of Esthetic Dentistry, the Chinese Prosthodontics Society, the Oral Branch of Chinese Association of Plastics and Aesthetics and the Chinese Society of Medical Aesthetics and Cosmetics. He is also certification member and China CCP of European Society of Cosmetic Dentistry, Certified international trainer of the International Society of Computerized Dentistry and member of the European Association for Osseointegration, the American Association of Cosmetic Dentistry and the Japanese Association of Esthetic Dentistry. Dr. Feng's major fields include dental esthetic prosthodontics, implant prosthodontics, CAD/CAM restorations, dental chromatology and dental photography. He published 19 books as chief editor or master translator and he is member of the editorial boards and reviewer in many academic journals such as the Chinese Journal of Stomatology and the Chinese Journal of Prosthodontics. Since 2005, he dedicated himself into continuing education regarding cosmetic dentistry with more than 500 lectures and ten phases of national continuing educational programs in China.