

Dr. Spiridon-Oumvertos Koutayas, Dr Med Dent, DDS, CDT

Dr. Koutayas graduated from School of Dental Technology of the Technological Educational Institution of Athens [1988] and the Dental School of the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens [1994]. He completed his postgraduate studies in Prosthodontics at the Dental School of Albert-Ludwigs University of Freiburg in Germany [1998], where he performed his doctoral thesis, earned with “magna cum laude [2001]. Dr. Koutayas is a Board certified Prosthodontist of the German Association of Prosthodontics and Dental Materials (DGPro) [2003]. Between 2005 and 2012 he appointed as an External Assistant Professor at the Department of Prosthodontics at the Dental School of the University Medical Center of Freiburg [Chair: Prof. Dr. Dr. J.R. Strub]. His research focuses on the biomechanical and optical behavior of current all ceramic systems and he received two research awards from the European Academy of Esthetic Dentistry [2008, 2009]. Dr. Koutayas has a significant number of both international and national publications, contributions in books and numerous lectures and seminars. He holds a membership in many re-known scientific societies and academies and since 2011 he serves as the Secretary General of the Hellenic Academy of Esthetic Dentistry. Since 1999, Dr. Koutayas maintains a private practice limited to esthetic oriented restorative dentistry, prosthodontics and implantology in GR-Corfu.